

Jews and Race

A Short List of Supplemental Resources

(These will just get you started . . . )

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FNhG8aW6gbl&t=10s> – We Are Family: Rethinking Race in the Jewish Community, the 2020 Yom Kippur sermon of Rabbi Angela Buchdahl, the first Asian-American to be ordained as both a Cantor and a Rabbi. This is a great introduction to what may be our preconceived notions of who is a Jew and what a Jew looks like.

<https://reformjudaism.org/books-films-and-more-delve-antiracism-work> -- This is an anti-racism media list compiled by the Union for Reform Judaism (the congregational body of the Reform movement). It includes books, articles, films and TV shows, podcasts, and short videos. To the book list, be sure to add Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents by Isabel Wilkerson and The Color of Love by Marra B. Gad.

https://reformjudaism.org/observe-black-history-month-using-these-jewish-resources?utm\_medium=email&utm\_content=2021\_2\_11 – This is a list of resources by Black, biracial, and multiracial Jews to help the Jewish community more fully embrace the diversity of Judaism. Also compiled by the Reform movement, there is some overlap with the previous entry, but this resource includes ideas for action as well.

<https://jewoughtaknow.com/the-podcast/2020/6/28/94-current-events-are-jews-white> -- Podcast, "Jew Oughta Know" by Jason Harris, co-presenter for Session 1. Number 94: "Current Events: Are Jews White?" A thoughtful overview of the material for this series.

<https://religionnews.com/2021/02/12/american-jews-are-taking-a-hard-look-at-racism-in-their-midst/> -- Recent (02/12/2021) article titled "American Jews are taking a hard look at racism in their midst." Just one thought-provoking quote: "The challenge for white American Jews is to understand that they can be both targets of white supremacy and, at the same time, an accessory to it." A good introductory article for this series.
